

Percipient and Solidatus partner to deliver an integrated data lineage solution

The collaborative efforts of data integrator, Percipient, and data lineage platform provider, Solidatus, has yielded a unique solution to help FIs track how data across multiple systems is flowing and changing. The combined platform offers FIs a means to meet the highest data governance standards, while ensuring that all data, regardless of source, is automatically and comprehensively captured.

Percipient: Next-gen data integration and APIs

Percipient UniConnect offers a set of advanced capabilities to ensure data is made accessible, regardless of its source, structure or type.

Direct connectivity to real time and batch data

Timer or event driven scheduling facilities

On-the-fly, replication-free data transformations

Data delivery through a single gateway or via APIs

On-Premise or in-the-cloud processing of distributed data

Highest standards of data governance and security

Solidatus: Data lineage visualised

Solidatus offers an intuitive, simple to use, web-based application that gives businesses the ability to rapidly map and visualise their data landscape.

No or little training required for users.

Customisable models, filters and display rules

Browser based application is usable in minutes

Tiered authorization

Views can be easily shared with management and colleagues

Flexible top down or bottom up method for modelling data

Percipient + Solidatus: An architecture for today and the future

Introduction of a UniConnect layer between the FI's data systems and the Solidatus platform allows for seamless aggregation of stored and streaming data. This data is delivered to the Solidatus interface minus time-consuming and resource-intensive manual processes. Users of the Solidatus platform can be confident that all metadata used by the FI is comprehensively captured and mapped.

Percipient + Solidatus: Data Governance for FIs

Percipient's OEM solution for data integration brings distinct advantages to Solidatus' data lineage platform:

Connectivity to all internal systems	Enable data transformations
Ability to track external data use	Ability to leverage data for analytics
No delays due to manual downloads	Integrated security protocols

“UniConnect is the perfect complement to the Solidatus platform because it brings with it the data management capabilities that FIs need in order to meet ever-changing data governance rules ”

- Philip Miller, Co-Founder, Solidatus

“The Solidatus and Percipient partnership helps FIs not only use data more effectively, but also ensures that these advances are tracked and shared across the entire organisation ”

- Navin Suri, CEO, Percipient
